

Hydro-Mulching Contract

WillSeed agrees to plant a lawn of grass with the hydro-mulching process as defined on the estimate and work order form attached.

Customer Instructions

Watering Practice: After the lawn has been sprayed, begin watering one or two days after initial spray date, this lets the mulch harden in the sun before any water comes in contact with it. Avoid puddling and washing of the seeds and/or mulch. In extremely hot weather, three watering's daily may be required. Apply sufficient water frequently to keep the ground and mulch moist. A representative of our firm will check your lawn periodically during the first two weeks to check its progress. (Read the provided watering instructions for more information).

Mow the grass as soon as you have substantial coverage of short, young grass. Discontinue watering one or two days prior to mowing to allow the soil surface to dry. After the first mowing, fertilize the lawn (optional), as defined in the provided instruction sheet. After mowing resume watering on a once-a-day basis for the next five to seven days, then mow again. Begin to water less frequently, but be sure to fertilize and water sufficiently when the colour of the grass begins to lose its deep green colour.

As the lawn matures, reduce watering frequently. Soak periodically rather than frequent light or daily watering's. Once fully established and mature, your grass may go for weeks without watering, depending on how hot and dry the soil conditions are.
